Message from Jeff Dodes

I'm pleased to announce that Paul Hochman has been promoted to Vice President, Marketing.

Paul joined SMP from Barnes & Noble in 2010. He's made important, positive contributions to our success ever since and he does it with poise, humor and great publishing instincts. From his leadership in developing many of our author social media platforms to the creativity and care in which he develops a bigger and better Louise Penny campaign every year, Paul is invaluable.

Paul will remain the Black team leader and continue to bring the same strengths he offers to our mystery, thriller and suspense titles to our non-fiction titles where he's recently helped steer best seller campaigns for Jocko Wilink's Discipline Equals Freedom and Bandy Lee's The Dangerous Case of Donald Trump among others.

Please join me in congratulating Paul on this well-deserved recognition.
